

Oct. 25, 2017

OrthoMedex LLC Presents at OktoberINVESTfest 2017

OrthoMedex LLC is pleased to announce its Oct. 25, 2017 participation in OktoberINVESTfest 2017, an investor's conference held at the New York Academy of Sciences. In addition to presenting the latest OrthoMedex LLC developments to an international investor audience, its Founder participated in a panel discussion entitled:

Warren Buffet is not the only one 'Going German': Hear first hand from companies and financing experts about their experiences expanding to and investing in Europe's powerhouse, Bavaria Germany. Investment, expansion, funding and research topics will be on the table.

Jim Walls, OrthoMedex's CEO and Founder shared his experiences with medtech collaboration with some of Germany's leading academic and research institutions. OrthoMedex LLC was recently awarded a $1.4MM Medical Valley EMN E.V. Internationalization medtech collaboration grant, funded by Germany's Ministry of Education and Research [BMBF].

"OktoberINVESTfest 2017 provided a forum for OrthoMedex LLC to debut its technology, Medical Valley collaboration experience and company investment opportunity to an international cross-section of potential investors," stated Jim Walls, OrthoMedex's CEO. "The venue was not only spectacular, but the international connections made saved hundreds of meeting hours and thousands of airline miles; time and opportunity well spent."

OrthoMedex LLC, www.orthomedex.com, is a Connecticut-based start-up orthopedic implant company, leveraging the osteostimulative and antimicrobial attributes of bioactive glass to address the unmet implant fixation and infection control needs of the orthopedic surgeon. For further information please contact:

Jim Walls
Founder & CEO
OrthoMedex LLC
Email: jim.walls@orthomedex.com